

Please do not lift the ban of cellular phones on airplanes. It would be very annoying with all the different calls that would be going on at once. It is bad enough that we have to put up with this on buses, trains, restaurants and just people walking around; it would not make the flight enjoyable. If this is to happen then there would have to be separate sections on the planes for cell users and non-cell users.